PHILADELPHIA — His own legacy on the line, President Barack Obama implored the nation’s voters to re-elect Hillary Clinton to the White House, casting her as a candidate who believes in the optimism that powers Americans to elect Hillary Clinton to the White House and to build on the accomplishments of her husband’s eight years in the Oval Office.

Tonight

As the convention’s closer tonight, Hillary Clinton takes center stage to re-establish herself as Democratic Party leader and to introduce her mother, Dorothy Rodham Clinton.

The Associated Press

By Julie Pace

PHILADELPHIA — He’ll be campaigning in Iowa tomorrow. After a decade, public housing renovation project is complete

Sarasota from Naples with his mother to pursue a degree in illustration more than a year ago. His mum works two jobs to cope with the cost of living and her son’s education. They moved into Janie’s Garden Phase II last fall.

On Wednesday, they sat in the last row of chairs as about 40 people celebrated the completion of a decade-long housing renovation project.

Florida Dems eye higher offices

By Zac Anderson

Tampa Mayor Bob Buckhorn was building up Hillary Clinton for weeks Wednesday, working to a crescendo, when he slipped in a reference to another upcoming visit.

“We’re going to win in 2016, we’re going to break that barrier, and then we’re coming back in 2018 and we’re going to take this state back!” Buckhorn declared to applause from the Florida delegates attending the Democratic National Convention.

Buckhorn may be a staunch Clinton supporter, but he also has been exploring a bid for governor in 2016 and did not waste the opportunity to introduce his mother, Dorothy Rodham Clinton.

Key players behind the redevelop- ment of Janie’s Garden gather to cut the ribbon during the grand opening celebration for the final phase of the development.

By Lee Williams

Baltimore — More than a year after a black man suffocated a broken neck in a police van, the effort to hold six officers criminally responsible for his death collapsed Wednesday when the city dropped all charges in the case that tore Baltimore apart.

In the case that punctuated a summer of violence and anger, attorneys and the people.

A day before another trial was to begin, prosecutors dismissed charges against three remaining officers, blaming police for a biased investigation that failed to produce a single conviction. The system failed Freddie Gray.

Gray, 25, was fatally injured Wednesday when the city dropped all charges in the case that tore Baltimore apart.

The Associated Press

By Juliet Linderman

PHILADELPHIA — His own legacy on the line, President Barack Obama implored the nation’s voters to re-elect Hillary Clinton to the White House, casting her as a candidate who believes in the optimism that powers Americans to elect Hillary Clinton to the White House and to build on the accomplishments of her husband’s eight years in the Oval Office.

Tonight

As the convention’s closer tonight, Hillary Clinton takes center stage to re-establish herself as Democratic Party leader and to introduce her mother, Dorothy Rodham Clinton.

The Associated Press

By Julie Pace

PHILADELPHIA — He’ll be campaigning in Iowa tomorrow. After a decade, public housing renovation project is complete

Sarasota from Naples with his mother to pursue a degree in illustration more than a year ago. His mum works two jobs to cope with the cost of living and her son’s education. They moved into Janie’s Garden Phase II last fall.

On Wednesday, they sat in the last row of chairs as about 40 people celebrated the completion of a decade-long housing renovation project.

Florida Dems eye higher offices

By Zac Anderson

Tampa Mayor Bob Buckhorn was building up Hillary Clinton for weeks Wednesday, working to a crescendo, when he slipped in a reference to another upcoming visit.

“We’re going to win in 2016, we’re going to break that barrier, and then we’re coming back in 2018 and we’re going to take this state back!” Buckhorn declared to applause from the Florida delegates attending the Democratic National Convention.

Buckhorn may be a staunch Clinton supporter, but he also has been exploring a bid for governor in 2016 and did not waste the opportunity to introduce his mother, Dorothy Rodham Clinton.

Key players behind the redevelop- ment of Janie’s Garden gather to cut the ribbon during the grand opening celebration for the final phase of the development.

By Lee Williams

Baltimore — More than a year after a black man suffocated a broken neck in a police van, the effort to hold six officers criminally responsible for his death collapsed Wednesday when the city dropped all charges in the case that tore Baltimore apart.

In the case that tore Baltimore apart.

The Associated Press

By Juliet Linderman
through its educational programs, which have given back millions in scholarships and other educational assistance in affordable housing that Michael built.

He called Schlimke up to request the résumé for a $2,000 memorial scholarship that he had set up in the name of the former Sarasota Herald-Tribune sports writer and sports editor, Larry Shaw, who died in 2014.

"Just seeing Janie’s garden grow and seeing people in a big living situation that’s just the good stuff," Schlimke said. "This is one thing less to worry about."

About 30 years earlier, one of Shaw’s favorite stories was on a hit-and-run accident.

"I told them she was drunk," Thompson said. "They asked if the treatment was the same as the fifth, so wasted," he said. "She told me she was drunk. I told one of the troopers she was drunk, and they didn’t do anything."

Thompson said he would not rule out any alcohol impairment, "so there was no need for any alcohol tests on Weissman's breath or blood." He said he was surprised the (FHP) investigation could be filed.

"We were pursuing Weissman through this thing. I told them she ran several red lights," Davis said. "None of us know what was going on."

"The troopers that told us there was no reason to pursue her, we didn’t lose it," Davis said. "We weren’t pursuing her."

"I told them she got out out of the car and ran," Davis said. "I told one of the troopers she said she ran, and we found the car she said she was in."

"I told them she was drunk," Thompson said. "They asked if the treatment was the same as the fifth, so wasted," he said. "She told me she was drunk. I told one of the troopers she was drunk, and they didn’t do anything."

Thompson said he would not rule out any alcohol impairment, "so there was no need for any alcohol tests on Weissman's breath or blood." He said he was surprised the (FHP) investigation could be filed.

"We were pursuing Weissman through this thing. I told them she ran several red lights," Davis said. "None of us know what was going on."

"The troopers that told us there was no reason to pursue her, we didn’t lose it," Davis said. "We weren’t pursuing her."

"I told them she got out out of the car and ran," Davis said. "I told one of the troopers she said she ran, and we found the car she said she was in."

"I told them she was drunk," Thompson said. "They asked if the treatment was the same as the fifth, so wasted," he said. "She told me she was drunk. I told one of the troopers she was drunk, and they didn’t do anything."

Thompson said he would not rule out any alcohol impairment, "so there was no need for any alcohol tests on Weissman's breath or blood." He said he was surprised the (FHP) investigation could be filed.